

Suspicion of Cancer?

Here's What to Expect.

The Early Steps:

First Referral for Suspicion of Cancer

The Middle Steps:

Investigation of Symptoms

The Final Steps:

Cancer Diagnosis and Treatment Planning

Developed by All.Can Canada to be customized by Canadian cancer patient groups and other stakeholders with specific information for different cancer types.

All.Can Canada
Save Your Skin Foundation is the Secretariat of ACC

The Early Steps: First Referral for Suspicion of Cancer

Cancer Suspicion Pathway

What is the diagnostic pathway for my suspected type of cancer?

Is there information or a website that I can review to help me understand what is happening?

Point of Contact

Who should I reach out to if I have questions about:

Referrals, Tests, or Appointments

Travel needs

Financial needs

Questions about loss of income/employment assistance?

Expected Wait Times

Referrals:

Appointments:

Tests:

Results:

Mental Health Resources

Who should I contact about:

Mental health support

Peer support (patient groups)

Other needs, such as: sexual health/fertility, mindfulness, spirituality?

Developed by All.Can Canada to be customized by Canadian cancer patient groups and other stakeholders with specific information for different cancer types.

All.Can Canada
Save Your Skin Foundation is the Secretariat of ACC

The Middle Steps: Investigation of Symptoms

Tests

What is each test?

What is the purpose of each test?

What are the procedures?

How should I prepare?

Do I bring a caregiver?

Point of Contact

Who should I reach out to if I have questions about:

Specific tests/the investigation process

Travel needs

Financial needs

Questions about loss of income/employment assistance?

Test Results

How long until I can expect the results?

Who will provide me with results and explain these results?

Who will explain next steps?

Where can I access the results themselves?

Mental Health Resources

Who should I contact about:

Mental health support

Peer support (patient groups)

Other needs, such as: sexual health/fertility, mindfulness, spirituality?

Developed by All.Can Canada to be customized by Canadian cancer patient groups and other stakeholders with specific information for different cancer types.

All.Can Canada

Save Your Skin Foundation is the Secretariat of ACC

The Final Steps: Cancer Diagnosis and Treatment Planning

Size and Staging

What happens next to learn more about this cancer (size, stage)?

How long will this take?

Point of Contact

Who should I reach out to if I have questions about:

My care plan and treatment plan

Travel needs

Financial needs

Questions about loss of income/employment assistance?

Mental Health Resources

Who should I contact about:

Mental health support

Peer support (patient groups)

Other needs, such as: sexual health/fertility, mindfulness, spirituality?

Looking at the Treatment Options

What are the treatment options for this cancer?

Would treatment be curative or palliative?

Are clinical trials available to me? When would they be something to consider?

What are the benefits, risks, and uncertainties associated with these options? What are the short and long term side effects?

When would these treatment options start?

How will my medical team know if my treatment is working? How and when will this information be conveyed to me?

Logistical Implications

What are the logistical implications for each treatment option?

Do I need to travel to receive treatment?

Will I need to stay in the hospital?

Are my treatments covered through insurance? If not, what options do I have for coverage?

Do I need caregiver support during treatment?

Developed by All.Can Canada to be customized by Canadian cancer patient groups and other stakeholders with specific information for different cancer types.

All.Can Canada
Save Your Skin Foundation is the Secretariat of ACC