Efficiency hub submission form

About the All.Can efficiency hub

All.Can aims to drive sustainable healthcare solutions for everyone affected by cancer. We have already begun to identify several powerful examples of projects and initiatives aimed at improving the efficiency of cancer care; many of these are featured in our inaugural policy report. However, we wanted to do more to gather and share best practices across the cancer community. Therefore, we created the efficiency hub to collect as many examples of best practice as possible. Read more about the efficiency hub here.

This submission form aims to collect information on initiatives that identified and tackled some form of inefficiency in cancer care. We will publish all collected examples (defined as 'initiatives') as part of the efficiency hub, which will be available on the All.Can website.

Our work with iPAAC

All.Can is a collaborating partner in the Innovative Partnership for Action Against Cancer (iPAAC) and will be contributing to Work Package 8, addressing the 'Challenges in Cancer Care'. The programme of work is currently in development. As part of this work, All.Can is partnering with iPAAC on the efficiency hub. iPAAC is conducting a survey on best practices in efficiency of cancer care in hospitals across Europe. The survey conducted between February and September 2019 and done in partnership with iPAAC, the Organisation of European Cancer Institutes (OECI) and All.Can. Examples collected in this survey will be featured in the All.Can efficiency hub. Read more about our work with iPAAC here.

If you would like to point us in the direction of an initiative that you have come across in your work and research, please fill out only Sections 1 and 2 of the form.

If you would like to submit your own project as an example for the efficiency hub, please fill out Sections 1, 2 and 3 of the form.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding this submission form, please contact us at: secretariat@all-can.org

Thank you very much for submitting an initiative for the All.Can efficiency hub!
